DIZZY DEVIL

Dizzy is a rowdy, hyperactive ball of fur and teeth. Born permanently hungry, Dizzy is always on the lookout for something to eat, be it a box of pizza rolls or one of his classmates from Acme Loo. To Dizzy, most of the other animals are potential food sources.

Dizzy Devil is Acme Acres resident party animal, always on the lookout for a happening gig to crash. The other characters know this, and try to keep their parties a secret, but somehow Dizzy always finds out. Once there, he's the beast that won't leave, that one last annoying guest who's still blaring the stereo and dancing on the furniture long after the hosts have gone to bed. Dizzy loves having a good time, raising a racket and eating to excess. Turn-offs include Quiet Zones, watching calories, easy listening stations and wise-cracking rabbits who won't let Dizzy catch them.

Dizzy tries to eat his way through anything, trees, buildings, mountains... you name it! He's a junk food junkie.

Dizzy's long wet tongue is forever hanging out of his mouth. It's so long that it sometimes scrapes against the ground... When spinning, Dizzy sometimes gets tangled up in it!

A junior version of the Tasmaniain Devil, Dizzy is the ID of a kid. He does everything bad that has ever crossed a kid's mind. But, while most kids have brakes, this guy does not. The Tasmanian Devil often offers Dizzy moronic and indecipherable tutorials at Acme Loo.

Dizzy speaks in mono-syllabic thoughts.
